

Images that you should see on the screen of Cassida 2200

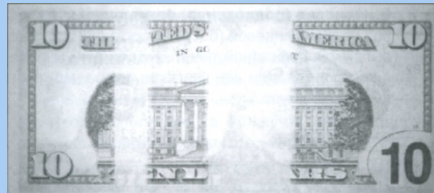

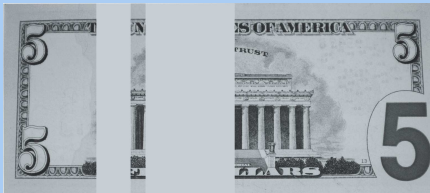

New series

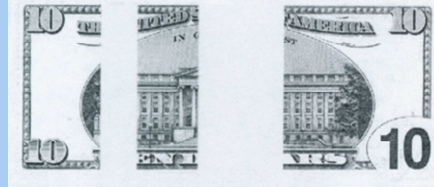

Old series

New series

Old series

The Infrared security stripe is the most advanced and the most reliable security feature for USD bills.

There is no known occurrence of this Infrared security feature being counterfeited. If the detector is not showing the stripe(s) on the screen, you can be sure the bill is counterfeit. $100 bills issued before 1999 do not have infrared stripe protection. To verify those bills use the ultraviolet, magnetic, or watermark detection functions of the detector.